RECHARGE REIMAGINE RISE

AMCHP 2027

March 6 – 9, 2027 | Washington, DC

Dear Leader of the State/Jurisdiction Health Agency,

On behalf of the Association of Maternal & Child Health Programs (AMCHP) and its local, state, and national partners, we greatly appreciate your role in the upcoming AMCHP Annual Conference. We encourage you to consider inviting and providing financial support to youth and young adult leaders (including students), family leaders, community-based organizations (CBOs), community-rooted partners, and Tribal Governments involved with your Maternal and Child Health (MCH) efforts to attend the conference. The event will take place from March 6th-9th, 2027, in Washington, DC.

We believe that the unique perspectives of community members are often not fully integrated or prioritized in the various policies and programs that affect their peers and families. Therefore, we are committed to providing a platform for their voices to be heard and integrated into MCH priorities. Each year, the AMCHP conference brings together over 1,000 MCH leaders, researchers, and practitioners to share the latest ideas, evidence, and wisdom in maternal and child health. The presence of a broad cross-section of community members, with their unique perspectives, enriches the conference experience by providing invaluable insights for all of us to learn from and apply in our work.

Our 2027 conference theme is "Recharge, Reimagine, and Rise." In a time of profound transition, we gather to rejuvenate and renew our commitment to children, families, communities, and one another—creating space for healing, meaningful interactions, and the kind of generativity that sustains us through challenging times. Together, we will ask: What's empowering and fulfilling us through turmoil? What's keeping us here? Together, we can reimagine our relationships, catalyze innovation, and build momentum for action in response to emerging issues and new possibilities. Inviting and providing financial support to youth and young adult leaders, family leaders, CBOs, community-rooted partners, and Tribal Governments to attend the AMCHP Conference is a tangible way to demonstrate your commitment.

Please consider making the financial investment to send youth and young adult leaders (including students), family leaders, CBOs, community-rooted partners, and Tribal Nations or Tribal Governments from your state or jurisdiction to the conference. This could include paying for their registration and providing reimbursement for travel, lodging, and meals. Your support will help alleviate the financial burden on our youth and young adult leaders, family leaders, CBOs, community-rooted partners, and Tribal Governments. If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact conference@amchp.org.

Sincerely,

Jacqueline Johnson
