

Join us for a brief Laboratory Developed Tests (LDT) update, followed by a Histo-drama that brings real-world scenarios seen throughout the HLA community to life!

Going to work can be challenging, especially when the environment isn't meeting your needs! What do you do in this situation? Do you hide in a corner and cry? Do you tough it out until retirement? Or explore opportunities that align better with your goals? Though it may not be a Broadway production, we promise you will enjoy it, all while discussing and exploring creative approaches to improve tech retention! We hope you will walk away with ideas that you can implement in your own labs!
