

PRIMR23 Preconference Workshop
Models of Tribal Research Governance and Ethical Oversight

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 3, 2023, 1:00 PM – 4:15 PM ET

Workshop Description

This PRIMR23 Preconference Workshop will explore Models of Tribal Research Governance and Ethical Oversight. This workshop brings together experts in Tribal research ethics to share best practices for governance and ethical oversight in research involving American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) Tribes and people.

Workshop Highlights

- Gain insights into various Tribal IRB models and oversight mechanisms.
- Learn how these mechanisms ensure respectful, community-engaged research.
- Understand their role in responding to Tribal community needs.
- Collaborate with experts and peers during Q&A sessions.

Complimentary Registration

PRIM&R is offering complimentary workshop registration to:

- Individuals actively working/staffing Tribal IRBs.
- Those supporting research review in Tribal Communities.
- Individuals entering this field within the next year.
- Employees of Tribal Colleges and Universities looking to expand research oversight capacity or create policies.

Interested? Complete the application form by November 10, 2023. Approved applicants will receive registration instructions.

Travel Support

If you work for a Tribal College, University, or IRB and need travel assistance to attend the workshop as well as the entire conference, you can apply for the Institutional Capacity Building Scholarship \(ICB\) by October 6, 2023.

Questions?

Contact cfischer@primr.org or kreyes@primr.org

This workshop is funded by the National Human Genome Research Institute, Training, Diversity and Health Equity Office