

HOW TO CLAIM CME FOR THE 2022 SNO MEETING

Deadline: Friday, March 3, 2022

CME credit can only be claimed for sessions that you attended during the in-person conference. Any content viewed throughout the next year does not have CME credit.

1. Login at <https://www.eventscribe.net//2022/SNO/> with your SNO registration username and password
2. Click on "Login" at the top navigation pane (see red arrow below)
3. Click on "CME Information"
4. Click on "Claim CME" (see red arrow below)
5. Complete the Overall Evaluation/Review Course Evaluation
6. Complete the session evaluation(s)*
7. Select the type of certificate respective to you
 - a. MD/DO
 - b. Nursing
 - c. Other Health Care Professional (HCP)
8. Print/save your certificate(s).

*For each certificate type, evaluate all sessions you wish to claim CME for BEFORE you move to the task to print your certificate. Credits will accumulate for each certificate type and be saved.

The screenshot displays the website for the Society for Neuro-Oncology (SNO) 2022 Annual Meeting & Education Day in Tampa Bay. The header features a blue banner with the text "See you in Tampa Bay" and "Society for Neuro-Oncology 27th Annual Meeting & Education Day, November 16-20, 2022". A search bar and a "Login" button are visible in the top right corner, with a red arrow pointing to the "Login" button. On the left side, a navigation menu includes "Conference Information", "Program", "Speakers", "Speaker/Presenter Information", "Abstract Submissions", "Exhibit & Support Overview", "CME Information", and "About SNO". A red arrow points to the "CME Information" menu item, which has a dropdown menu open showing "Annual Meeting", "Review Course", and "Claim CME". Below the navigation menu, there are several promotional banners: "Register for Tampa Now!", "Browse the Program!", "Keynote" featuring Melisa Bondy (Stanford University) and Beth Stevens (Harvard Medical School), and "Education Day I Cancer Neuroscience" and "Education Day II Survivorship". A social media widget for SNO is also visible on the left side of the page.
